

Our Privacy Policy

1. Who are we?

Cheshire Wildlife Trust is a conservation charity for everyone who cares about nature in Cheshire (Cheshire East, Cheshire West and Chester, Halton, Stockport, Warrington, Tameside, Trafford and Wirral).

We focus on protecting the wonderfully rich natural life that is found across our towns, countryside and coast, increasing people's awareness and understanding of the natural world, and deepening people's relationship with it.

Founded in 1962 we are the region's leading independent wildlife charity, campaigning for better wildlife protection accords Cheshire.

Supported by more than 13,000 members, volunteers and other supporters, we look after around 40 nature reserves with habitats ranging from grasslands and wet meadows to reedbeds, coastal dunes and woodland. We also work with other landowners to encourage them to manage their land with wildlife in mind.

In addition to our conservation work, we create opportunities for people of all ages to learn about nature and connect with it. We work with over 6,000 children each year and around 2,000 people attend our wildlife events and courses.

Cheshire Wildlife Trust is part of a partnership of 47 local Wildlife Trusts across the UK. With 800,000 members and 2,200 nature reserves, we are the largest UK voluntary organisation dedicated to conserving the full range of the UK's habitats and species.

2. Our commitment to your privacy

We are committed to keeping the personal details of our members and supporters safe. This policy explains how and why we use your personal data, to ensure that you remain informed and in control of your information.

Any references to Cheshire Wildlife Trust, the Trust, or to 'we' or 'us' refer to:

- Cheshire Wildlife Trust. We are a registered charity in England and Wales, and our registered charity number is 214927.
- Cheshire Ecological Services, our charitable trading company (registered company number 2623356). The company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Cheshire Wildlife Trust, which trades only to raise funds for our charitable organisation.

We use three key definitions to describe people mentioned in this policy. These are definitions used by the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK's independent body set up to uphold information rights (www.ico.org.uk)

- 'Data subject': this is you, one of our loyal members and supporters. As the data subject, we respect your right to control your data.
- 'Data controller': this is us, the Cheshire Wildlife Trust. With your permission, we determine why and how your personal data is used (as outlined in this policy).
- 'Data processor': this is a person, or organisation, who processes your data on our behalf, with your permission. For example, this might be a mailing house who sends your membership magazine to you, on our behalf (due to the size of our organisation, it's more cost-effective to outsource ad-hoc and large-scale tasks like this).

When we work with other organisations or individuals in this way, we always set up a written contract with them to protect your data. The third parties we work with at no point 'own' your data, so you will never hear from them independently and they will always delete your data from their systems when they have completed the task in hand. We always send your data to partner organisations securely, to minimise the risk of it being intercepted by unknown individuals and/or organisations.

We will never sell your personal data.

Should you wish to find out more about the information we hold about you, or about our privacy policy, please contact us:

Director of Fundraising & Communications

Our office hours are Monday – Friday, 9am – 5pm.

3. Why do we collect your personal data?

We use your personal data to keep in touch with you.

We will only ever collect, store and use your personal data when we have an identified purpose and reason to do so. The ICO refers to this as a 'lawful basis'. Further information about why we collect your personal data is outlined below.

a) To administer your Cheshire Wildlife Trust membership

We collect your personal data to administer your membership, which may involve:

- Sending you your membership welcome pack when you first join us
- Processing your Direct Debit subscription payments, if you have set this donation process up with us
- Sending you your membership renewal letter
- Getting in touch should there ever be any issues processing your subscription payment

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing your data for these purposes as 'contractual'.

b) To send you items purchased from our online shop, including event bookings

We collect your personal data to send you:

- items you have purchased from our online shop
- information about events you have booked onto

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing your data for these purposes as 'contractual'.

c) To send you information about our work and ask for your opinion

We also collect your personal data so that we can send you information about our work that we feel will be of interest to you. This includes your membership welcome pack, membership magazine, fundraising appeals, events, campaigning opportunities, membership, services, products, newsletter requests, feedback, competitions and other activities, as well as information about other carefully selected organisations that we work in partnership with (such as Vine House Farm's bird seed catalogue). From time to time, we may also use your personal data to ask for your opinion about our work.

This information is in addition to that outlined in sections a) and b) and is defined as 'direct marketing' by the ICO.

i) Joint and family membership

If you are a 'joint' or a 'family' member of our Wildlife Trust, we will address communications to all those listed on your membership. If you wish to update this at any point, please let us know.

ii) Gift membership

If your Wildlife Trust membership was purchased as a gift, we will use the address provided by the purchaser by to send you information about our work in the post. This will include a 'renewal letter', which we will send you when your membership is due to expire, to see if you would like to continue supporting our charity.

iii) When your membership has ended

Unless we hear from you directly, we will continue to send you information about our work for up to 6 months after your membership has ended. This is just in case your support was cancelled accidentally, by for example changing your bank account details, and you wish to update your details with us.

Your personal data also helps us to get to know you better and to develop a 'profile' of you on our secure supporter database. This 'profile' enables us to send you the information listed above in a timely and relevant way, to suit you. For example, keeping track of the donations you make to our organisation helps us to send you information about fundraising appeals that we feel you would like to hear about. Likewise, keeping a record of your wildlife interests that you may tell us about in one of our Membership Surveys, helps us to send you relevant project updates.

As defined by the ICO, we use two different lawful bases for processing your data for 'direct marketing' purposes:

i) Legitimate interest

This is where we have identified a genuine and legitimate reason for contacting you, which crucially does not override your rights or interests

We use legitimate interest to send you the information listed above by post or telephone (if you are not registered with the Telephone Preference Service, and you have given us your telephone number).

ii) Opt-in consent

This is where you have given us express permission to contact you by particular communication channels.

We use opt-in consent to send you the information listed above by email, text message (SMS) or telephone (if you are registered with the Telephone Preference Service)

We respect your right to update the way we get in touch with you about our work at any time.

d) To enable you to volunteer with us

If you are a Cheshire Wildlife Trust volunteer, we collect your personal data so that we can keep in touch with you about, for example:

- changes to planned volunteer work programmes that you may be taking part in
- the positive impact you have on our work, by sending you our volunteer newsletter
- dedicated volunteer thank-you events

As defined by the ICO, the lawful basis for processing your data for these purposes is 'contractual' (where administering your volunteer record) and 'legitimate interest' (when sending you information about our work).

e) To buy or sell goods or services

We collect personal data to comply with contractual responsibilities when we buy and sell goods and services from others.

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing personal data for these purposes as 'contractual'.

f) To meet our legal obligations

We collect personal data in order to comply with legal obligations such as providing information to bodies such as HMRC, Charity Commission, Companies House and HSE. The ICO define the lawful basis for processing personal data for these purposes as 'legal obligation'.

g) To enable effective functioning of our organisation

We collect personal data to enable the Trust to operate effectively in a variety of ways such as:

- responding to complaints,
- complying with regulators e.g. Fundraising Preference Service, Fundraising Regulator
- safeguarding, health and safety, security
- maintaining records to comply with donor requirements
- maintaining historical records of reserve management and biological field records
- liaising with landowners and tenants to carry out our work including conservation activities and planning advice
- running engagement activities such as events and competitions
- evaluating events, campaigns and website activity
- research and statistical analysis

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing personal data for these purposes as 'legitimate interest'.

4. What kind of personal data do we collect? How do we collect it?

a) Basic information

We will usually collect basic information about you, including your name, postal address, telephone number, email address and your bank details if you are supporting us financially.

Most of the time, we collect this data from you directly. Sometimes this is in person; other times, it is over the telephone, in writing or through an email. Occasionally we obtain information, such as your telephone number or other contact details, from external sources (only where you have given permission for such information to be shared).

b) Getting to know you better

We also collect information about you that helps us to get to know you better. This may include:

- information about your wildlife interests, which you tell us through, for example, our Membership Surveys
- records of donations you've made towards fundraising appeals
- your preferences of how you would like us to contact you
- ways you've helped us through volunteering your time
- records of events you've attended, or campaigns or activities that you've been involved in

Sometimes we will collect other information about you such as your date of birth and gender. When we do so, we will be very clear as to why we are collecting such information, and we will only do so with your specific consent and permission.

Once again, most of the time we collect this data from you directly. Occasionally we also obtain data from external sources. For example, we may check against Royal Mail's National Change of Address database to ensure that the address we have listed for you is up to date. We know moving to a new house can be a busy time and appreciate that you don't always have the chance to send us your new address. By undertaking this exercise, we can update your record without you needing to get in touch.

We may also collect demographic and consumption data generated through geodemographic tools (such as CACI Acorn), as well as information related to your wealth. This may include information from public registers and other publicly available sources such as Companies House, newspapers and magazines. If you do not wish your data to be collected in any of these ways, or have questions about them, please contact us.

When we do so, we will be very clear as to why we are collecting such information, and we will only do so with your specific consent and permission. In these situations, we collect the data from you directly.

If you are a volunteer then we may collect extra information about you, for example:

We may also collect sensitive personal data if you have an accident on one of our reserves. 7. Making a complaint

Cheshire Wildlife Trust want to exceed your expectation in everything we do. However, we know that there may be times when we do not meet our own high standards. When this happens, we want to hear about it, in order to deal with the situation as quickly as possible and put measures in place to stop it happening again.

We take complaints very seriously and we treat them as an opportunity to develop our approach. This is why we are always very grateful to hear from people who are willing to take the time to help us improve.

Our policy is:

- To provide a fair complaints procedure that is clear and easy to use for anyone wishing to make a complaint.
- To publicise the existence of our complaints procedure so that people know how to contact us to make a complaint.
- To make sure everyone in our organisation knows what to do if a complaint is received.
